As Earth's fairest flowers too soon decay
And the day's brightness fades to gray,
The Young and the old, they pass away
Never again to come this way.

All of these things, the miracles of life
Must, one day, give up the strife.
So must our Brothers, answer by name,
When the Maker above stakes his claim.

They've transferred now to a heavenly home,
Never no more this world to roam.
Our heart full of sadness, we all must bear
For they have gone, but will meet us there.

The Elks Annual Memorial Service to our DEPARTED BROTHERS was conducted by the Lodge Officers on Sunday 8 December. The Officers wish to express their sincere appreciation to those members, their families and guests who attended this service in memory of those whom have passed to realms on high.

Altho The Clock Of  Their Days Has Now
Stopped, It's Hands  Motionless At The Hour Of Eleven - The Candle Of Remembrance Will Ever Burn.

Attention Lodge Cyber Assistant, this is a request reminder – kindly leave this last page displayed on our website. It is created as memorial to my father, Sam J. Tumminello, Jr. who passed April 15, 1963. All considerations will be appreciated long after I am gone. Sam J. Tumminello, III. (Lodge Cyber Assistant for the years 2003 – 2025)
